Tips for Creating an Effective Revision Procedure

PRESENTED BY VICTORIA CHÁVEZ-KRUSE, M.A. CT

You've just translated the last word in your text. Do you rush it off to your client to get it off your plate? Will you read it over once more, or twice more? Do you end with a monolingual pass or a bilingual pass? Revision is an essential component of the translation process, but translators are not always conscious of their revision method. Drawing on editing and revision principles from various experts, Victoria will discuss what to look for in revision, and how to look. Attendees will be encouraged to reflect on their current procedure and identify weaknesses in order to develop a systematic, effective procedure for reviewing translations.
